Westwood, the four boys charged with having killed Fred Mullinix on the boulevard skirting the Pacific ocean at the Cliff House, while he was promenading with his sweetheart, were held to answer by Judge Conlan on the charge of highway robbery. This band of young desperados three nights before they killed their victim in attempting robbery, compelled Bernard Ward, who they accosted in Golden Gate Park to stand and deliver. It was for this crime they were preliminarily examined.

Professor Alexis Lange, dean of the College of Letters of the State University, one of the most notable fighters on the campus, created a sensation yesterday by delivering a vitriolic address in which he characterized "college spirit" as consisting of fifty per cent "blatant animal spirit, twenty five per cent herding spirit and the rest a mixture of loyalty and jingoism."

Messrs. Nichols, Humphreys and Brohl arrived this afternoon from Louisa, California, where they have been inspecting the land in that region. They departed for Reno after a brief rest here.

MANCHURIA SUCCESSFULLY FLOATED

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Officials of the Pacific Mail Steamship company received a cablegram last evening, stating that their steamer Manchuria which stranded on a reef near Honolulu had been successfully floated. She will reach Honolulu tonight.

The Pacific Mail steamer Manchuria went on a reef at Makapuu Point while rounding the northern coast of Oahu. The accident was due to a heavy morning mist. With her cargo the Manchuria is valued at $3,000,000. She is the largest vessel but one of the Pacific Mail fleet, that one being the Mongolia, which is a trifle larger. The Manchuria is under command of Captain Saunders.

BONANZA AT WILD HORSE

RENO, Sept. 17.—A group of Sanville men who recently formed the Washoe Lassen Mining company and took over a group of claims near Wild Horse, ninety miles north of Reno, seem to have struck a bonanza. They have sunk fifty feet on a si foot ledge and have made the initial shipment of five tons of rock to the rocky Mill south of Reno, where they will test it in order to determine the best method of treatment. The five tons will give value of $300 to the ton. If the find proves as big as the stockholders believe they will erect a mill at the mine, which is fifteen miles from Round Hole, in an entirely new district.

SLIGHT CLEW TO MURDERER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—The death of William Friede, the merchant who was struck down in his store Friday afternoon, is momentarily expected. His watch was found near the corner of Market and Gough street by Walter Whitkop, a 12 year old boy. The only thing in the line of a clue that the police have discovered so far is the experience of W. A. Alexander of the firm of Alexander and Yost.

On Thursday night a man entered his store after he had closed up and was counting his money. The stranger said he was a contractor and wanted to price some tools. His actions aroused the suspicions of Alexander as he seemed entirely unfamiliar with the tools. The hardware man walked to the rear of the store and got a pistol. When the stranger saw this weapon he took to his heels. Another man was waiting for him outside. The police are confident that these are the two men who killed Johannes Fitzner and mortally wounded Friede.

Alexander was able to give a good description of the man who entered the store. "I would know him again anywhere" said the hardware man. "I am certain now that he must be the same fellow that killed Friede. I had a narrow escape."

SMELLS LIKE-AUTO

WINTERS, Cal., Sept. 17.—Frank Atteberry has paid a fee of $2 to the automobile registering department of the Secretary of State's office for the privilege of operating a wood saw.

It would appear that an automobile and a wood saw are mechanical extremes, but Atteberry wrote to B. C. Bell, in charge of the automobile registration, that "the machines runs on the road under its own power and about as fast as a horse can travel"—and they have good horses across the river.

Atteberry said that as the machine operates by gasoline and creates the same odor as an automobile that it should be classified with the chugging wagons. Mr. Bell says the state needs the money, so he accepted the $2 and sent Atteberry a license.

THREE RAILROADS TO ELY

SALT LAKE SEP. 17.—While the people of Ely are looking forward with pleasure to the operation of trains in and out of their district soon by the Nevada and Northern railroad, they also view with pleasure the establishment of the route of the Western Pacific railroad, about 100 miles north of the town. There will be a branch constructed from the main line of the Western Pacific into Ely townsite, and it is learned in Salt Lake today that this work will commence just as soon as the main line reaches the point of the junction. This has not been publically announced.

A well-known Ely attorney is in Salt Lake, however, working to set the questions of the ownership of some of the ground in order that titles for the territory to be included in the Western Pacific's proposed Ely junction Western Pacific townsite may be determined. Additional good news for Ely is that the surveyors are in the field locating right of way for the proposed extension of the Salt Lake route into Ely. This line will take in Black Horse and several other camps that are very promising, and the citizens of Black Horse are being told that undoubtedly the line will be built all the way from Frisco to Ely in order that Senator Clark's road may be cut into competition for Ely business both ways.

Altogether, therefore, Ely will have three railroads probably within two years at the latest, these being the Nevada and Northern, working in conjunction with the Harriman Southern Pacific main line via Cobro station, Ogden and Salt Lake; the Western Pacific, operating direct between Salt Lake and Ely, via a station to be established two miles north of Ely; and whose trains will not touch Ogden; the Salt Lake route operating between Ely and Salt Lake, via Now house and Frisco stations on the main line.
